Create the perfect ambience with Q.Light® from Switzerland

The Q.Light® Colour Light Unit from Q.Products AG (Biotechnology & Photomedicine), Switzerland is the latest model in their extensive range of light therapy devices for professional and home users alike.

It is a flexible and attractive source of steady and brilliant light for Colour Therapists, Cosmetic Institutes, Wellness Institutes, Naturopaths and those seeking the well-being benefits of from colour light at home.

Unlike Q.Light® models for medical applications, the Q.Light® Colour Light Unit uses advanced LED (light emitting diode) technology which makes it silent in operation - the perfect solution for creating just the right ambience for therapy and wellness. It is also light and easily portable with a long life (over 5,000 hours).

A range of 15 individual colours
